

Students weigh-in on their LIVE “AG” Experience

Students Across Miami-Dade County Get Ready For Agricultural Competition To Be Showcased at The Fair 2011

WHO: Miami-Dade County Future Farmers of America (FFA), 4H students and The Miami-Dade County Fair & Expo.

WHAT: The Fair encourages local agricultural students to take the LIVE Experience to the next level preparing future generations for the challenges of feeding our population.

Through the raising of animals culminating in exhibition at The Fair, Public and Private School’s, FFA and 4H students get a-LIVE, hands-on agricultural education. The education process is very intense and starts when the students from grades xx through xx, weigh-in their animals in preparation for competition. With their eye on the prize, the students will follow a strict regimen of feeding, grooming and exercising their animals every day until competition time at The Fair in March 2011.

The media is invited to this private event, where students take the first step in the competition process and weigh-in their Market Steer. Watch as students in our community show their skills handling steer weighing thousands of pounds.

Presented by Pepsi, Kia Motors America and Sedano’s Supermarkets, The Fair reaches its 60th year mark...pushing the LIVE Experience to the Next Level! Proudly showcasing more than 50,000 local student exhibits, both artistic and academic, and generously supporting youth achievement programs throughout the year.

Live the Experience | March 17 through April 3, 2011. Be There, The Fair.
